Presentation To Miss M. Patterson

An interesting social gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Warner on Tuesday evening of this week. The occasion was a "send-off" for Miss Margaret Patterson, who is about to leave town for Brockport, having undertaken to teach the youth of that hamlet to become good Canadians.

Some startling revelations were made in the course of the evening. Editor Bartlett at the table simply made every one stand—or rather, sit—aglast.

"At a dinner so various, at such a restaurant, who'd not be a glutton, and stick to the last?"

Here, waiter, more tea! Let me sit while I'm able.

Till all my companions sink under the table!

Then with chaos and blunder encircling my head—

Let me ponder and tell what I think of the dead!" —Retaliation.

Messrs. (Revs) Hunter and Gray proved themselves experts at—

"Doctor Mac, Doctor Mac,

Ye should stretch on a rack,

To strike evil does it' terror;

To join faith and sense,

Upon any pretence,

Is heinous, damnable error."

"Fud! fud! were hymn to cursen for his filthiness;

But rather wold he yeven out of docto

Via to his pore parishens aboute.

Of his offring and eek of his substance

He koude in fird thyng hane substaunce.

Wyd was his parische, and housen for a sonder.

But he ne lafte out for reyn ne thunder.

In sickness or in meschief to visite

The ferrest in his parische, nuchle and his.

Va on his feet, and in his hand a staff,

This nuchle ensample to his sheep he gaf.

Flat broke he wroughte and afterward that he tanglede,

Out of the gospel he the wordes caughte,

And this figure he nuchle eek ther to,

That if gold ruste what shall iren do.

For if a prestre be foul on whom we truste,

No wonder is a lewed man to ruste."

—Chaucer.

It was shown conclusively, at every round, that the lady school teachers were—

"O why the deuce should I repine,

An' be an ill forlorned?

I'm forty-three, and five feet nine—

I'll go and get a soldier."

And, finally, it was demonstrated that something was the matter with one of the preachers, for he went off alone wearing one of his own rubbers and one belonging to someone else.

"Oh, wad some power the ziftie gie us

To see onsel's as others see us.

It wad frae monie a blunder free us

And foolish notion.

What airs in dress an' gait wad lea'e us, ane e'en devotion."

Before the party dispersed, Miss Patterson was made the recipient of a hostess purse, as a token of the esteem in which she has been held locally, and, in particular, as a mark of appreciation of the services which she has rendered as secretary of the Presbyterian Sunday school during the last four or five years. All joined in wishing her the best of success in her future work.

"By day or night, in weal or woe,

That heart, no longer free,

Must bear the love it cannot show,

And silent ache to face."

Full justice was done a sumptuous spread by over thirty young and "not old" people.

"Of old when Scaron his companions invited,

Each guest brought his dish and the feast was united.

If our hostess supplies us with leaf and with fish,

Let each guest bring himself—and he brings the best dish.

Our Dean shall be venison just fresh from the plains,

Our Eaton be tongue with a garnish of brains;

And Fulton be wild fowl of excellent flavor,

And Keith with the pepper shall heighten their savor;

Our Stevenson's sweetbread its place shall obtain.

And Hunter is pudding, substantial and plain;

Our Darrach's a salad, for in there do we see

Oil, vinegar, sugar, and saltiness agree:

To make out the dinner, full certain I am.

That Jew is anchovy and Blanche is the lamb;

That McNeill's a capon; and by the same token Magnanimous Bartlett's a crust when

Sandy McEwen Killed in Action

(From our own correspondent)

Cowley, October 18.—It is officially reported today that Sandy McEwen has been killed in action. Somewhere in France, Sandy has kept himself well in the minds of the home folks by his frequent and optimistic letters and post-cards, and his death has cast a gloom over the village. Flags are today half-mast in his memory. His father is a member of the 103rd Calgary rifles, and on duty at Castle Camp.

A friend of ours in Coleman says that Editor Norman's brains become so scattered in getting out one issue of his paper that it takes weeks to gather them together again, and as a consequence people of that town have to wait patiently for weeks for the next appearance of the home excitement.

It's broken." (Apologies to Oliver Goldsmith)

To Mr. and Mrs. Warner, the host and hostess of the evening, are due the thanks of the company for a highly interesting evening.

"Oh, blame not the bard, if he fly to the bowers Where pleasure lies, carelessly snuffing at Fame, He was born for much more, and in happier hours His soul might have bargued with a holier dame."

Government Issuing De- bentures For The Public

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—To meet the case of those investors who desire their funds to be available for the war expenditures of the government, and who may have money on hand from time to time in the intervals between the war loan issues which they would like to invest safely and profitably, the finance department has created an issue of Dominion five per cent treasury debenture stock, principal maturing October 1, 1919, with interest from date of purchase payable by cheque free of exchange. This stock may be purchased at par at any time, and will be accepted by the government at par and accrued interest in lieu of cash in payment of any allotment under future Canadian war loan issues. Further particulars will be given in the advertisements which will shortly be published. This debenture stock issue, which is intended to attract funds available for investment which might otherwise find their way into foreign securities, was forecasted in the last budget reports of the minister of finance. The issue is entirely distinct and separate from the war savings certificates of small denominations now under consideration from promoting national savings. It is hoped that from the sale of this debenture stock substantial further funds may be made available for the purchase of munitions and supplies in Canada.

Ralph Connor At The Front

It is well known that Rev. Dr. C. W.
Gordon of Winnipeg, the popular Episcopal pastor of the literary world, is now a chaplain in France with the 43rd battalion.
An officer of that battalion has written a letter to Canada in which he says that Dr. Gordon is beloved and honored by all ranks, and adds:
"Where the shells are bursting, causing death and destruction, and where the bullets are flying thickest, you will find him among the boys with words of encouragement. Among the wounded he is a hero. We have seen him hold the hand of a dying comrade, whose only thought was for the widow and child he was leaving behind in our beloved Canada, and we have heard him say: 'God, your wife will never want as long as I am alive.' We have seen him lead a party of pioneers through hell fire to our 43rd dead. We have walked with him nine miles there and back to perform the last rite at the grave of a fallen comrade. We have listened to his sermons within range of the Hun's gun and have seen the tears in the eyes of brave men."

British Sailors' Relief Fund Organized

A branch for Southern Alberta of the British Sailors' Relief Fund has been organized for Southern Alberta for the purpose of showing to a small extent the appreciation of the people towards the grand work done by the men of the Navy and Merchant Marine.

The idea of the Fund is to provide for the large number of widows and sick and orphans of the brave seamen who have given their lives for the protection of not only their British coast, but Canada as well. The men of the Navy have accomplished great things for Britain and Canada.
Through their continual watchfulness all our ships have crossed the ocean with troops in an unbroken line. Our grain and merchandise has gone forward to provide food, clothing and munitions for the large army, and without the services of the Navy this could not have been accomplished.

The fact is it has not been for the services and devotion of the men of the Navy Canada would today be under the rule of the German flag, and we would be in the same position as Belgium—to the Navy therefore owe our liberty, and every true Canadian should be willing to contribute something towards providing for the families of the brave sailors.

In undertaking to raise this Fund the Committee wish the hearty support and co-operation of every one, and that all will be willing to do everything in their power to determine with them that every British Sailor who suffers in the cause of the Empire and Canada shall feel that the hosts of his fellowmen everywhere in the world are with him.

The Committee have agreed to raise, at least, $25,000.00 in Southern Alberta and earnestly hope that all who are asked to assist will do so at once as they wish to report to headquarters on October 21st, the Anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar when Britain became mistress of the seas. The Postmaster will receive contributions.

not at all against advertising, but against the manner in which it is done. Advertising is the

The Rev. James, who preached two well-known men from west of meet my brother, who is visiting me now," remarked the one, thinking he was addressing Dr. Stanley.

After the usual exchange of greetings, the discussion became political in tone, in which the person played the part with zeal. Then the farmer referred to the horrible condition of the coal trail west of town. "Why in—don't you do something with those—" fellows at Edmonton, to get our roads into shape," shouted the farmer.
Mr. James, who bears a close resemblance to the doctor, assured the irate voter that he would put the matter squarely before the Public Works Department, when the repairs would be made, and bidding a hasty adieu, he continued his walk, reflecting on the reason-shoulders of the average member

Foundation For Many Needed Improvements May Be Laid in School

To the rising generation must we look for many changes and improvements in our municipal conditions.

The children of the present, under the influence of a broad minded teacher, will absorb lessons which will later be an enormous influence for good. A recreation of this kind, and of the great dependence placed upon them should be in the mind of everyone entrusted with the upbringing of our youth. The extent to which this power to influence children for good is recognized may be gleaned from the number of appeals made to the school teachers for assistance. Every interest working for the betterment of Canada and Canadians lays stress upon the necessity of securing the recognition and support of the children.

To this already long list has been added a call for the influence of school teachers in the keeping of streets free from litter. To a large extent the children are responsible for this. Waste paper, chewing gum and candy wrappers are thrown on streets and sidewalks regardless of the untidiness they cause. This litter, carried by the wind, and, blowing about the streets, frightens horses, causing many runaways and sometimes serious accidents. Waste paper also collects in sheltered places, falls through grates into basement window openings, or accumulates against wooden buildings or fences; a lighted match or a cigar or cigarette stub can set these hidden accumulations on fire, and the fire which sometimes causes the greatest loss, both of property and lives. The school teachers have it in their power to inculcate in their pupils a spirit of pride in the appearance of the streets, and great benefits will accrue from this effort on their part.—E.
